

Web Sites for Joke and Riddles

Collected by Linda J. Burkhart

Jokes are great for building turn taking and social interaction skills. They can also be great as extensions to the language arts, science, social studies and math curriculum. Look for jokes related to specific topics or riddles that utilize vocabulary from a particular unit. Hint: When there is a long list of jokes listed on a single web page. You can use the Find or Find in Page command, under your browser's Edit Menu to search the page for key words.

NOTE: This is a list of web sites that post jokes for kids. While all efforts have been made to only include sites with kid appropriate material, the Web is a dynamic entity and therefore, there can be no guarantee of the appropriateness of content found on web sites. Please use this list with that in mind. Also, please caution children not to click on advertisements or links to other sites.
